

The call for presentations is now open

Would you like the opportunity to share your work or project with other natural resource managers and the wider Territory community?

We are seeking proposals for presentations and posters for the 2023 Territory Natural Resource Management Conference to be held at the Darwin Convention Centre. The conference will take place from 21 - 23 November, 2023.

Anyone involved in natural resource management in the Northern Territory may apply to present. We encourage nominations from pastoralists, farmers, Indigenous rangers, Landcare and community groups, researchers, industry groups and government.

Types of presentations include:

Podium Presentation

10 minute spoken presentation on your natural resource management story, project or research to be presented during the conference presentation day on the main stage at the Darwin Convention Centre.

Poster Presentation

- Your poster will serve as a presentation of your story, project or research on natural resource management.
- All posters will be displayed in the main hall at the Darwin Convention Centre throughout the conference presentation day, with an opportunity to discuss your poster with delegates at scheduled poster viewing times on the conference presentation day.
