This workshop will provide participants with an overview of available options for feral cat management, why some approaches work in some locations and not others, methods for monitoring and evaluation, and resources and skills required for implementation.

The overall aim is to bring people together to share their experiences, and to provide land managers with the information and tools they need to get started in feral cat management and/or monitoring.

Presenter

Speakers will include Indigenous land managers, other land management practitioners, university researchers and government scientists.

Territory Natural Resource Management acknowledges the Traditional Owners and Custodians of the land on which we work, and recognises their ongoing connection to culture, country and community. We pay our respects to Elders past and present.

You are welcome to take notes and photos, and are encouraged to share your experience.
