 Catering provided

This workshop will bring together senior rangers and ranger coordinators from across the NT to share knowledge and experiences around the roles and challenges of managing ranger teams and ways to support a Ranger network into the future.

Come prepared to share stories!

Some topics to be covered:

- Roles and responsibilities of the job
- History – how have ranger programs changed over the years, hear from rangers/managers past and present
- Models – explore the different ways people and community do rangers
- Tips and tricks – what has worked for you?
- Challenges – what are common challenges and how do others tackle them?
- What skills and education are needed to take on this job? What ongoing training and/or mentoring is needed?
- Brainstorm for future network ideas

Facilitated by Jaemie Page

Jaemie has been training, mentoring, working and learning with rangers and other land managers across the top end for over 20 years. He has watched the growth of ranger programs over this time and witnessed the many challenges faced by ranger coordinators and managers. Jaemie is currently working with Batchelor Institute delivering training in Conservation and Ecosystem Management and Foundational Skills to rangers across the top end.

You are welcome to take notes, photos and are encouraged to share your experience.
